

CATALOG RIGHTS AND EXCLUSIONS

The Hiram College Catalog is published yearly and covers the academic policies and requirements in effect for the fall, spring and summer terms of that academic year.

Rights

1. A student's "catalog year" comprises the academic policies and degree requirements established in the catalog that is in force during the student's first term of enrollment.
2. Students may opt to update their catalog year to a more recent catalog. In so doing, students must comply with all requirements in the new catalog.
3. Students attending Hiram College under an articulation agreement are subject to the terms of that agreement.

Exclusions

1. Students who withdraw and return to Hiram College after three academic semesters or more are readmitted either under the current catalog-in-force or in their "catalog year" depending on how long they have been away from the College. Readmitted students are not permitted to return to inactivated majors or minors.
2. Changes may be made to programs to comply with accreditation, licensure, or state or federal regulations. These changes may necessitate that students update to a more recent catalog.
3. Degree requirements may change based upon availability of resources or faculty. The dean of the college will identify suitable arrangements for the completion of these programs and inform the students.

Individual student needs not addressed above will be referred to the dean of the college.
